Dear ______________________,

I am seeking to purchase ________________________________ , a digital learning resource offered on the First Book Marketplace.

This resource is priced at $______ per class of 30 students per year, which is ______% off the retail price.

This resource is good for my students, easy for me to use and offers high value. According to the attached Games and Learning scorecard, it will benefit my students in the following ways:

1. ____________________________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________________________
3. ____________________________________________________________

This digital learning resource works on our classroom devices through any web browser, and it avoids collecting personal information from students.

Thanks in advance for your consideration.
